Acknowledgements

I would like to thank for all the teachers and non-academic staff of Multiple Cropping Center (MCC), Faculty of Agriculture, Chiang Mai University for extending their support during my two years study period in Chiang Mai.

I like to take this opportunity to sincere gratitude to Dr. Methi Ekasingh, my Thesis Advisor, for guiding me to new concepts in farmer participatory approaches in soil conservation extension which will be valuable to my future carrier. My Thesis Committee member Associate Professor Dr. Benchaphun Ekasingh, I thanks sincerely for her guidance and advices especially for my data collection, formulation of methodologies, data interpretation and all during the thesis work. Dr.Jirawan Kitchaicharoen my Thesis Committee member, I offer my sincerer thanks for her valuable guidance for formulation my questioner, and especially for data analyzing and results interpretation. I should make especial thank to my thesis advisor for guiding me for improve my research capacity in this field. I especially mention about the understanding of the ajans about my difficulties when I faced hard times. Dr. Kanjana Chuenpichai, external examiner, I would like to sincerely express my gratitude for your critical comments and the tireless efforts in making me understand and improve my research capacity. Especial thank goes to Wattana to writing the Thai abstract.

Let me to take this opportunity to express my gratitude to Ministry of Agriculture, Government of Sri Lanka, for allowing me to pursue my study in Thailand. I would like to thank Director General of Agriculture, Director Horticulture Research and Development centre and Senior Deputy Director of Natural Resources Management Center to selecting me for the Master degree in Thailand. My sincere appreciation goes to the Department of Technical and Economic Cooperation (DTEC), Thailand for providing financial support to undertake this study.

I would like to express my sincere gratitude for all in MCC, especially Khun Om for helping for all the time, I will not forget her valuable support when I faced my beloved mothers death during the mid term exam of First semester during my study. If MCC did not support me at that time I could face so many troubles to attend the funeral. I especially remember Kun Buthsara, Orei, Jaie, Birgit, Wattana and my AGS friends, batch mates and all the teachers for that very hard time I past.

I would like to mention about the all hard working technical officers of Natural Resources Management Centre (NRMC) not only the support they gave me for my Masters research, but all the past eleven years period I served in NRMC they could follow me to achieve what farmers need help from us, and all the trainees from all kind of authorities. All the friends in NRMC I like to mention your help. The farmers who work for us in our soil conservation and watershed management programs were the teachers and your hard lives made me to formulate the field programs for last period of my service.

To my parents, I would like to take this opportunity to dedicate this thesis for them and all my teachers at present and in the past who guided me to come to up to this stage. I remember them all and dedicate this for them. It was not easy for me to complete my study, if my husband, would not taken all the responsibilities and troubles to manage our children along. To my beloved husband, Wije and my lovely daughters Anjanie and Himeshika, if you all were not with me I would not finish this with valuable end. Let me take this opportunity to express my gratitude for being so considerate and constantly providing me the moral strength. Your kindness and love support me and encourage me tremendously.
