Acknowledgement

There are many people who have contributed to my success in study and research as well. Firstly, I would like to express my sincere and genuine gratitude to my thesis and academic advisor, Lecturer Dr. Jirawan Kitchaicharoen, for all her support, encouragement, and excellent supervision in the process of designing and writing this research paper. Her moral support and unreserved cooperation will be ever existing in my memory.

Many thanks are also due for my committee members, Assoc. Prof. Dr. Benchaphun Ekasingh, Asst. Prof. Dr. Choke Mikled and Lecturer Dr. Methi Ekasingh for their kind support and valuable comments.

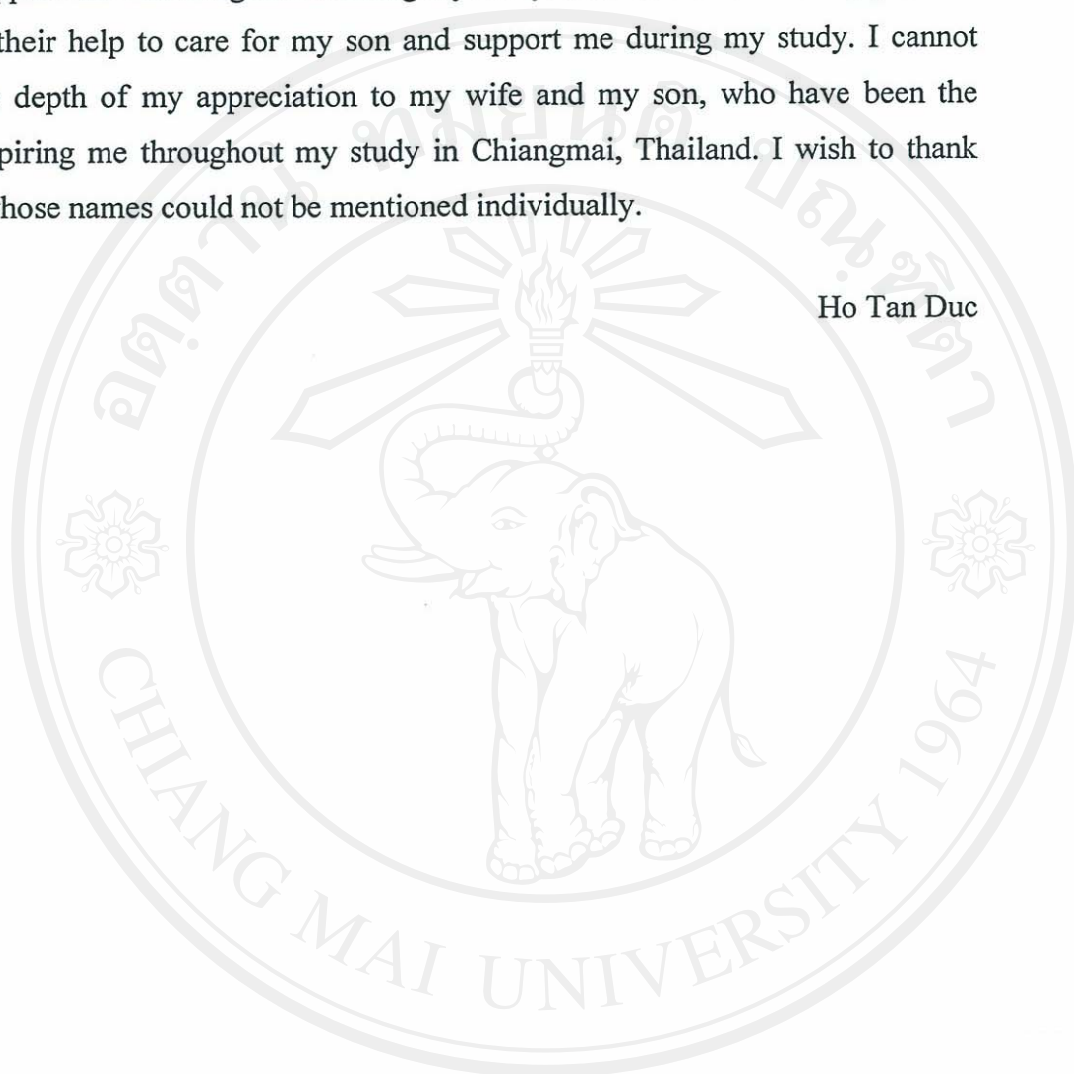

It is my great pleasure to thank to all lecturers of Multiple Cropping Center, Faculty of Agriculture, Chiang Mai University who shared knowledge and experiences to complete my study successfully. I am very much delighted to pay thanks for the warm and friendship provided by all MCC friends. Their kind cooperation in study as well as in other activities is unforgettable.

I would like to acknowledge and thank my sponsor, the Thailand International Development Cooperation Agency (TICA), for granting the full scholarship, which enable the author to study at Chiang Mai University in Master Degree program.

I wish my appreciation to Center for Rural Development (CRD), Hue University of Agriculture and Forestry (HUAF) for arranging me to take the course. My special thanks are due to leaders and officers of the Huong Phu commune, Huong Loc commune, Huong Hoa commune and Thuong Lo commune for their cooperation and help during my field survey.

Finally, I am indebted to my parents, my younger-brothers and younger-sister for their support and encouragement during my study. I am so indebted to my parents' in-law for their help to care for my son and support me during my study. I cannot express the depth of my appreciation to my wife and my son, who have been the closest, inspiring me throughout my study in Chiangmai, Thailand. I wish to thank everyone whose names could not be mentioned individually.
