ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I am deeply grateful to my adviser, Professor Dr. Benjavan Rerkasem, for her supervision and encouragement during my study.

I am grateful to Professor Dr. Bernard Dell, for his valuable suggestion and comments all my work.

Special thank to Associate Professor Dr. Sansanee Jamjod for her advisory opinions on my work and all her support. I also thank Professor Dr. Saisamorn Lumyong, Dr. Chanakan Promuthai and Dr. Jumnian Wongmo for valuable advices and kind suggestions to improve my thesis.

Financial support from Royal Golden Jubilee PhD Scholarship, Thailand Research Fund, and the National Research University Program of Thailand's Commission on Higher Education is gratefully acknowledged.

During the long period of my study, I have received much support from colleagues and students at the CMUPN*lab*, Agronomy Division, Chiang Mai University. I appreciate Dr. Sittichai Lordkaew and Mrs. Kanjanaporn Lordkaew for their help in laboratory work. Thank to farmers at Haul Teecha village, Mae Hong Son province for their kindly helps. I also thank to Dr. Narit Yimyam of the Highland Coffee Research and Development Centre Chiang Mai University, for his help in survey work.

I am indebted to my family, and thank them for their unwavering support especially my father Major Bunsong Kongpun who always understand me and supports me everything.
