ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

First and above all, I praise God, the almighty for providing me this opportunity and granting me the capability to proceed successfully. This thesis appears in its current form due to the assistance and guidance of several people. I would therefore like to offer my sincere thanks to all of them.

First, I would like to express my gratitude to my supervisor Assoc.Prof.Dr.Prasert Chaitip. The academic attainments he demonstrates as a scholar brings me with knowledge in literary studies and inspires the original idea of this thesis. The superb guidance he provides as a supervisor helps me to complete the thesis in its present shape. Thanks to his feedback on my proposal that provides invaluable insights, to his close review on my drafts that refines their structure and language, and to his understanding that helps me overcome difficulties in writing.

I am also grateful to Lect.Dr.Chukiat Chaiboonsri, who through his workshop teaches me academic writing methods and clarifies my ideas on thesis argument and structure. Thanks especially to his patience with my slow progress and his encouragement on my work.

Thanks also extend to Assoc.Prof.Dr.Kanchana Chokethaworn, my thesis committee member, who provided her helpful comments to my proposal writing and thesis modification. I am appreciated the helps of Assoc.Prof.Tanarak Meckhayai, thesis committee chairperson, for thesis comments and suggestion that helped my thesis modification.

Finally, thanks for my parents for their encouragement and support. They always give me confident that I would reach my goal. I would like to thank my sister Lianxi Cheng for her time and effort gathering research material and research books for me from Fudan University Library in Shanghai. I also want to acknowledge my all of classmate in my master cohort for the wonderful friendship, supports and kind help.

Lianting Cheng
