

Thesis Title	Development of Project Oriented Risk Management Model
Author	Acting.Sub.LT Boriwat Suebkuna
Degree	Master of Engineering (Computer Engineering)
Thesis Advisor	Dr. Sakgasit Ramingwong

ABSTRACT

There have been continuous attempts to develop a perfect risk model for software project management. Yet, most of these attempts fail in addressing critical aspects such as lack of practical procedure, incomplete focus on risk facets, or missing links between software project life cycle and risk management. This research proposes a model and framework to solve this problem by integrating advantages of various risk management models on standard project management life cycle. This leads to a practical approach which can be easily understood and efficiently applied in any software projects.