ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Firstly, I would like to express my sincere thanks to my supervisor, Dr. Tanachai Pankasemsuk for his wise assistance. He always advised me to not make everything difficult. I would like to express my deepest heartfelt thanks to my co-adviser, Professor Dr. Douglas Archbold, University of Kentucky, Lexington, Kentucky, USA. He has spent much valuable time and patience with advice throughout my work. He and his wife, Rhonda, took great care of me during my work at the University of Kentucky. I am also grateful to my co-adviser, Dr. Rumphun Koslanund, Department of Agriculture, Ministry of Agriculture and Co-operative. She is my best friend and gave me sincere and helpful support for my dissertation. I would like to thank the thesis examining committee members, Assist. Prof. Dr. Vicha Sardud., Dr. Leuchai Aranyarungsarit and Dr. Therapas Sinlaphasomboon.

I am extremely grateful to the Deputy Permanent Secretary of Ministry of Agriculture and Cooperatives Chakarn Saengruksawong, the Deputy Director of Agriculture Department Jirakorn Kosaiwee, Director Suthep Nudsawad, Director Paitoon Urairong, Director Varee Chaithep., and Director Uthai Noppakunwong. I could not have achieved success without them.

I also have to give thanks to Randall Collins, University of Kentucky, for his pleasant help, Pitchayaporn Suwanakood for help with fungi, Piyawan Kwanmongkhon for spore assistance, Kallaya Withee and Vithaya Apai for their support during my stay in Chiang Mai, Kaewta Jantararat for her hard work, Dr. Uraporn Sardud for her kind assistance, and Piyawan Matarach for a thesis preparation assistance.

I also have to thank the Graduate School, Chiang Mai University, Postharvest Technology Institute, Chiang Mai University and Department of Agriculture, Bangkok Ministry of Agriculture and Cooperative for the research scholarship support.

I could not forget to give my thank you to the many people who gave advice and help from the Postharvest Technology Institute staff, Tanachai's staff, Rumphon's staff and my university colleagues. Moreover, I would like to apologize to the many people that I could not refer to by name.

The biggest thanks and love go to my father, my memorial mother, the Srijampa family and Sansook Rattanapol for all their love encouragement and support. Finally, I would like to give my special appreciated thanks to my husband and my lovely children to devote their life, time and difficulty for my success.
