ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I would like to express my sincere gratitude to my advisor Asst. Prof. Dr. Jamnong Uthaibutra for giving me guidance, encouragement, and many valuable comments and suggestions throughout the duration of my studies. I would also like to show my deepest gratitude to my co-advisor Asst. Prof. Dr. Adisak Joomwong, who has encouraged me to apply for studying master degree at Postharvest Technology Research Institute, Chiang Mai University, Thailand and many helpful, valuable advices throughout my work and my living in Thailand. I am very grateful to Dr. Nguyen Van Doan, my external examining committee member, who spent many hours reading my thesis and giving me many useful comments and suggestions.

My deepest thanks go to the former chairperson of Postharvest Technology Program Lect. Dr. Yaowaluk Chanbang, and Lect. Dr. Viboon Changrue, the chairperson of Postharvest Technology Program for their kindly and good opportunity. My thanks must go to Mrs. Phikoontong Somboonchai, Ms. Lamduan Ampha, Ms. Netwaraporn Madchanoi, Ms. Sumalee Pumthip and everybody in Postharvest Technology Research Institute, Chiang Mai University for their help me in financial and documentary management, and my work.

I also would like to thank to my colleagues and my close friends Mr. Phan Ba Thanh, Mr. Hoang Tien Sy, Mrs. Nguyen Thu Huyen, Mrs. Pham Thanh Tinh for their kindly help during my research in Vietnam.

I especially thank to the Agricultural Science and Technology Project VIE-2283 (SF), Ministry of Agriculture and Rural Development of Vietnam for supporting me the funds to study master degree in postharvest technology at Chiang Mai University, Thailand.

I would like to thank to Postharvest Technology Research Institute, and Postharvest Technology Innovation Center, Chiang Mai University, Thailand; Department for Research of Agricultural Products Storage, and Center for Research of Agro-Food Processing, Vietnam Institute of Agricultural Engineering and Postharvest

Technology; Fruit and Vegetable Research Institute, Vietnam for providing me to use facilities for study and analysis equipments.

I also received great support and help from Vietnamese people who are residing in Chiang Mai, Thailand, and should take this opportunity to express my sincere thanks to all of Vietnamese students in Chiang Mai city, who shared their feelings, experiences and knowledge with me. In particular, Mr. Cu Ngoc Linh, Mrs. Dang Thi Mong Quyen helped me to do researches and shared their work experience in relation to my research topic.

Finally, the biggest thanks go to my large family, my parents, my parents-in-law, brothers and sisters, my wife and my son for all their encouragements with love throughout the years of study at Chiang Mai University.
